Summary:

Reporting to the Director of Indigenous Education and school administration, the Indigenous Outreach Worker is responsible for engaging with learners, parents, community groups, agencies, organizations and service providers with the purpose to support attendance and learner success. The Indigenous Outreach Worker will provide support to enhance the success of Indigenous learners who may have complex barriers contributing to disengagement from school. The IOW will provide school-based and home-based services for Indigenous students and families to support re-engagement and connection with school.

Typical Qualifications and Skills:

- Certificate in Social Work or Indigenous Studies or a combination of training/certification/professional work experience.
- Minimum 1 year of experience working in an Indigenous community or with Indigenous students who have been disengaged from school
- Experience working with Indigenous children/youth with complex needs, trauma, addictions
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills
- Demonstrated ability to work effectively as a team member
- Demonstrated experience in social-emotional support, case management and referral processes
- Knowledge of First Nations, Metis, and Inuit history, culture, values, history, and contemporary issues facing Indigenous students, families and communities
- Valid BC driver's license
